

De La Salle Brothers accepted into the National Redress Scheme

12 February 2019

The De La Salle Brothers have been formally accepted into the National Redress Scheme by way of Ministerial Declaration by the Minister for Social Services.

You can read the update from the National Redress Scheme announcing the entry of the De La Salle Brothers into the Scheme.

“The De La Salle Brothers are committed to continuing our work to respond to those who have experienced abuse in any of our works, no matter how long ago it may have occurred.

“Joining the National Redress Scheme marks another important step forward on the journey of healing founded on an open acknowledgment of the suffering and pain that too many have and continue to endure.”

“The National Redress Scheme provides an alternative path for survivors of institutional sexual abuse to seek redress and we welcome our inclusion as a participating institution”.

Applications for redress must be made directly to the National Redress Scheme. You can find out more about the Scheme and how to lodge an application by visiting their website at www.nationalredress.gov.au
