SECURE YOUR PLACE AT CAMPION WITH AN EARLY OFFER FOR 2022

Applications for Campion College's Early Offer Scheme are now open.

The scheme allows Year 12 students and non-high school leavers seeking to undertake bachelor or diploma studies with the college in 2022 the chance to fast-track their enrolment.

In addition to securing a place at Australia's number one-rated Catholic liberal arts institution by September, applicants will be automatically considered for a scholarship in their first year.

To apply for the Early Offer Scheme, applicants must provide academic documentation in addition to a written statement and community recommendation. They must also undertake an interview with one of Campion's academics.

Each stage in the process will allow applicants to demonstrate their readiness for tertiary study, commitment to the liberal arts tradition and potential to make meaningful contributions to the Campion College community, based on previous educational, vocational and community involvement.

College president Dr Paul Morrissey encourages anyone considering studies in the liberal arts to apply for the scheme, particularly Year 12 students.

"With all the uncertainty that has been thrust upon us amid the pandemic, I appreciate that Year 12 students may feel a little uncertain about the future that lies ahead," he said.

"Our Early Offer Scheme is a chance to reduce some of that uncertainty so you can focus on completing your secondary studies with ease."

Campion's Bachelor of Arts in the Liberal Arts (three years full-time) and Diploma of Liberal Arts (one year full-time) educate students in the history, literature, philosophy and theology of Western culture.

While Campion is an independent institution, the college fosters a strong commitment to a Catholic ethos on campus, providing daily Mass, regular adoration, confession and other chaplaincy events, including a yearly student retreat.

Students from Catholic and non-Catholic backgrounds alike come to Campion to study the liberal arts, developing transferrable knowledge and skills that lay the foundation for success in a broad range of professions.

Applications close 30 September 2021.
